FAQ

Minimum order quantity policy
Standard products do not have a minimum order quantity limit, but the unit price is different. The larger the quantity, the better the price.

For custom production, you can discuss the minimum order quantity directly with our sales representatives.

2. Sample supply situation & policy
After the customer confirms the specifications, we are happy to provide samples for testing and identification.

All samples should be paid before shipment and the sample price is higher than the bulk order. When a large number of orders are placed, we can return the sample cost or send more products with products.

You can purchase samples directly from us using t/t, Western Union or paypal. You can also buy it at our online store.
